On July 19th, 2003 at approximately 2205 hours, the Naples Police Vice and Narcotics Division was working in the area of the River Park Apartments 402 11th Street North, Naples, Florida. Sergeant Popka observed a white male subject, later identified as Stebbins Franklin DEAN, walking in the area of the 1000 block of 5th Avenue North, Naples, Florida. Sergeant Popka observed DEAN looking in the to apartment area through the buildings as if he was appearing to make contact with several pedestrians who were present in the area. DEAN then began to walk southbound on 11th Street North through the residential neighborhood of the River Park Apartments. Detectives continued to monitor DEAN as he walked through the apartment complex slowly continuing to appear as if he was attempting to make contact with pedestrians who were in this area. DEAN continued walking west on 3rd Avenue North, Naples, Florida.

Detective Fletcher was working in an undercover capacity and approached DEAN. Detective Fletcher asked DEAN, "What do you need?" DEAN walked over to Detective Fletcher and stated, "Eighty," referring to the street terminology for eighty dollars worth of crack cocaine. Detective Fletcher is familiar with the street terminology utilized in this area involving the purchasing and distribution of narcotics, specifically crack cocaine. Detective Fletcher advised DEAN that he could sell him crack cocaine. Detective Fletcher asked if DEAN had the money. DEAN removed a wallet from his rear pants pocket and showed Detective Fletcher U.S. currency contained inside. Detective Fletcher showed DEAN three pieces of "fake" crack cocaine. DEAN advised Detective Fletcher that he did not believe that the pieces that Detective Fletcher showed him appeared to be eighty dollars worth of crack cocaine. Detective Fletcher agreed and stated that he could sell the crack cocaine for fifty dollars. DEAN advised Detective Fletcher that he only had forty-two dollars to purchase the crack cocaine that Detective Fletcher had shown DEAN. Detective Fletcher agreed to sell the three pieces of "fake" crack cocaine to DEAN for forty two dollars.

DEAN then handed Detective Fletcher two - twenty dollar bills and two - one dollar bills of U.S. currency ($42.00) for the purchase of three pieces of crack cocaine. Detective Fletcher handed DEAN three "fake" pieces of crack cocaine to complete the transaction.

DEAN then began to walk away from the area and was placed under arrest by back up units. As officers approached DEAN with blue/red lights flashing lights to arrest DEAN, he was observed making a throwing motion and discarding the three pieces of crack cocaine into a large rubbish pile. The three pieces of crack cocaine were not recovered

DEAN advised that he was in the Naples, Florida area on a business trip and conference, staying at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. DEAN stated he still resides in Fresno, California where he is employed as the Chief Executive Officer of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce. DEAN attempted to convince Detectives that he has never smoked crack cocaine before, and he just was going to try crack cocaine on this date for the first time. DEAN advised he took a cab from the Ritz to the River Park neighborhood to buy his crack.
